Eagles Back Campaign To Curb
Juvenile Delinquency In City

Members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Aerie No. 12, at a banquet Friday night pledged themselves to support a campaign to curb juvenile delinquency and to fight for an increased endowment for old-age pensioners.

Whole-hearted support for a campaign to reduce juvenile delinquency came after B. Duncan had warned that delinquency was rising in Victoria due to an increase in population and lack of public interest in youth guidance.

"It is a complex problem which cannot be solved by providing better schools and increased vocational activities," he said. "The root of the trouble lies with the parent who are responsible for the upbringing of their children."

Mr. Duncan praised the work being done by the Teen-Age Club, but said more would have to be done to occupy and train youths to be better citizens.

Proceedings at the banquet opened with an address by President J. Wright who traced the growth and development of the organization in Greater Victoria. He said membership was nearly 2,900 and the goal for this year was 1,000 new members.

Air Conference
Criticizes Federal Aviation Policies

HARRISON HOT SPRINGS—Criticism of federal government policy on aviation feeder lines, and a walkout of delegates from the Vancouver Junior Board of Trade were features of Friday's closing session of the annual conference of the B.C. Aviation Council.

C. C. Scanlon of North Vancouver was elected president; Earl Brett, Chilliwack, first vice-president; W. T. Strath, Victoria, second vice-president; and Donald Dewar, Penticton, secretary-treasurer.

Among the directors are Ald. B. J. Gadsden, Victoria, and Ald. J. W. Harris, Port Alberni. It was charged during the discussion that the federal government had failed to encourage feeder air services to smaller centres in B.C., and a resolution was passed asking government subsidies to get such lines established.

An argument on a proposal to petition the government for a high-level bridge at the foot of Granville Street in Vancouver, to give a direct route from the city to the airport, ended in a walkout of Vancouver Junior Board of Trade delegates when the proposal was rejected.

A. F. Grant, Courtenay Board of Trade, insisted that Vancouver Islanders need feeder lines more than anyone in the west. Two airports, at Courtenay and Nanaimo, are not being used for commercial aviation, he said, although considered the best on the coast.

Ald. R. A. C. Dewar of Victoria was chairman at the final session.

Body Under Helpless
Woman's Bed A Week

DUNMORE, P.A. (AP)—A chance visit by an insurance agent to the Charles Schall home led to the discovery of the body of the 77-year-old man under the bed of his invalid wife.

Mrs. Schall, 74, who said she had been paralyzed by elephantiasis for the last five years, told Lackawanna County coroner Paul Kubas her husband was feeding her a week ago when he suddenly gasped "I'm dying. Cora, I'm dying."

Her husband fell to the floor and rolled beneath the bed, said Mrs. Schall.

Unsettled Postwar Conditions Augment
Work Of Chest Here

The work of the John Howard Society, one of the member agencies of the Community Chest, has been greatly augmented by the unsettled conditions following in the wake of war which make for an increase in the crime and juvenile delinquency rates.

The object of the John Howard Society is the prevention of crime and criminal conditions, together with a strong advocacy of prison reform.

Financially it is dependent on public donations through the services of the Community Chest, and this year $2,030 is needed by the organization to carry on its work. The Chest campaign for $100,000 begins Tuesday.

Much of the work of the John Howard Society is done quietly and without fanfare, as men and boys come from penal institutions to the society for help in becoming re-established.

The problems they bring are varied, and the only object of the society is to help a man to help himself. They are contacted by some of the society workers as soon as possible after release from prison.

The John Howard Society will help the ex-convict to obtain work and tide them over financially, when necessary, until they are re-established.

The special interest of the John Howard Society is the younger offender because there is more chance of aiding him in becoming a good citizen again, although the so-called "hardened criminal" is not neglected.

Penal reform is another aspect of the society's work, and its members are particularly keen on forwarding the Borstal system as the only satisfactory solution to the problem of handling juvenile delinquents and young offenders.

Extra Hour's Sleep For Most Tonight As Standard Time Back

By CANADIAN PRESS
Canadians in towns and cities which used daylight saving time this summer have an extra hour's sleep coming to them this weekend when most communities revert to standard time.

The majority are due to set the clock back before they go to bed tonight. Three of four British Columbia towns already are back on standard time and two holdouts, Regina and Saskatoon, plan to keep "fast time" until Oct. 13.

For the average Canadian the change means an end of the confusion which arose from the patchwork manner in which towns and cities adopted daylight saving last spring.

Communities in British Columbia started to revert to standard time early this month—Kamloops Sept. 1, Merritt Sept. 17 and Salmon Arm Sept. 21. Others, including Victoria, Vancouver, New Westminster, Penticton, Kelowna and Trail change at midnight Saturday.

Midnight Sunday will see the return to standard time of Winnipeg and Brandon in Manitoba, Moose Jaw in Saskatchewan, and Woodstock and Timmins in Ontario. Prince Albert, Sask., will change Sept. 30.

Weather

Cloudy skies are general over interior B.C. this morning except for clear weather over the Kootenay region. Overcast skies are general over the coastal area with intermittent rain over the Vancouver Island, lower mainland regions. And continuous rain elsewhere. An intense weather system 400 miles off the Charlottes is already causing southeasterly gales over exposed area of the Charlottes. Strong to gale force winds are expected to spread southward along the coast by afternoon today. The system will move in over the Charlottes tonight but a further system to the west will prevent any marked improvement in the weather.

Victoria and Vicinity — Overcast. Intermittent rain by evening continuing through Sunday. Light winds becoming northeast 10 afternoon today continuing tonight and Sunday morning. Winds becoming southwest 20 late afternoon Sunday little change in temperature.

West Coast Vancouver Island — Overcast. Intermittent rain becoming continuous by noon. Rain becoming intermittent afternoon Sunday. Southeast wind 15 m.p.h. increasing to southeast gales 30 m.p.h. by afternoon today and continuing through Sunday morning. Winds then changing to southwest 20 until mid-afternoon Sunday. Becoming southeast 20 by evening. Little change in temperature.

More Spirits, Wine
During October

More spirits and wine are in store for British Columbia liquor permit holders during October. W. F. Kennedy, chairman of the Liquor Control Board, said today the October ration of hard liquor had been increased from three to four reputed quarts, one of which may be Scotch whisky if it is available, while the domestic wine ration had been increased from one and one-half to two gallons (12 reputed or eight imperial quarts), and the imported wine ration had been increased from six to eight bottles.

Cin continues unrationed. Beer quotas, to the public from vendors' stores and to licensed premises and clubs, continue as in September. The malt beverage quota for permit holders, alternative to spirits or wine, is six dozen pints of ale or beer.

Labor Party Victorious In Australian Elections

SYDNEY (CP)—The Labor government of Australia was assured of a return to power when ballot-counting ceased at midnight following Saturday's general election. At that time approximately half a predicted 4,500,000 votes had been tallied and indications were that the Chifley administration's absolute majority of 23 in the 75-seat House of Representatives would be about the same in the new parliament. Several closely-contested seats remained in doubt, however.

Prime Minister J. B. Chifley said in a press statement issued from his home town of Bathurst, N.S.W., that "it appears beyond doubt the government has been returned."

Earlier Robert G. Menzies, leader of the Liberals, largest opposition party, had termed the results "disappointing and very disturbing."

Labor's "Big Two," Mr. Chifley and Herbert V. Evatt, Minister of External Affairs, were practically certain of retaining their seats, as were the other 10 cabinet members.

Similarly, in an election notable for the absence of major upsets, Mr. Menzies and Arthur W. Fadden, chief of the Country Party—No. 2 opposition group which might have formed a coalition with the Liberals had the government fallen—both seemed sure of election.

Time Changes Today

The household argument in Victoria and vicinity today will be whether it is smarter to put the clocks back an hour on re-tiring tonight, or wait until Sunday morning.

There will probably be some absent-minded citizens who despite all warnings that daylight-saving time ends at midnight tonight, will forget to change their clocks and report to work an hour early Monday morning.

Then there are the meticulous ones who will sit up until midnight for the sole purpose of setting back the clocks at the exact time the city reverts to standard time. There are always some who make the mistake of putting their clocks on another hour instead of back.

On Monday, however, it is expected that all clocks in the city will be synchronized, and all will be well.

Bus-Loading Station

Plans are being prepared to build a new loading station to deal with the heavy passenger traffic between Victoria and the Trans-Canada Airlines Airport at Patricia Bay, E. A. Calwell, manager of the C.C. Taxi Service Ltd., said today.

The station will be built on Broughton Street between Douglas and Blanshard and will consist of a waiting room, a raised platform and parking space for buses and taxis moving to and from the airport.

Macaulay Huts Released To City For Housing

Army huts at Macaulay Point camp have been released by the Department of National Defence for housing purposes, Mayor Percy George was informed today by J. G. Walker, emergency shelter administrator.

Mr. Walker said he was notified by Ottawa Friday that he had authority to take over a designated number of buildings at Macaulay for use of the city of Victoria for emergency housing purposes. He said he is having the necessary receipts prepared through Military District No. 11 headquarters, and he will contact Mayor George as soon as the papers are ready for signatures.

He added in a postscript that he anticipated that clearance would arrive in the immediate future for Colwood camp.

Mayor George said that the housing committee, under Ald. R. A. C. Dewar would take up the matter immediately upon Ald. Dewar's return to the city from Harrison Hot Springs. It is not known at the moment how many families can be housed at Macaulay, or what conversion work, if any, is necessary before some families can be moved in.

It is anticipated that the release of Macaulay huts will solve the problem of housing the five families in Victoria who are facing eviction, as well as caring for a number of veterans' families.

Has your organization received its invitation to the Veteran Labor Housing Conference to be held in the Britannia Branch auditorium on Oct. 20? If not, have your secretary write Secretary, Veteran Labor Housing Conference, P.O. Box 1086, Victoria, requesting invitation and credentials.

Charles A. Banks Named B.C. Lieutenant-Governor

Charles A. Banks confirmed in Vancouver today reports of his appointment as next Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, succeeding Lt.-Col. W. C. Woodward.

Mr. Banks said that he and Mrs. Banks will go to Victoria early next week for investiture.

A native of New Zealand, Mr. Banks first came to British Columbia before the First Great War to report on mines in the Pacific coast province for an English company.

He returned here following the First Great War but has spent

New Department Created Three New Deputies Named

Provincial Secretary George S. Pearson today announced the creation of departments of health and welfare, the appointment of three new deputy ministers and his relinquishing of the commissioner of fisheries portfolio to Hon. Leslie H. Eyres, Minister of Trade and Industry and Minister of Railways.

The changes, including the proclaiming of the Health and Welfare Act, providing for the two new departments, are effective next Tuesday.

The appointments are as follows: Dr. G. F. Amyot, Provincial Medical Health Officer, becomes Deputy Minister of Health.

E. W. Griffith, Assistant Deputy Provincial Secretary and chief to the welfare division of the Provincial Secretary's Department, becomes Deputy Minister of Welfare.

C. Norman Baker, chairman of the Provincial Civil Service Commission and chairman of the Superannuation Commission, has been appointed Deputy Provincial Secretary, succeeding P. Walker, who will retire Sept. 30. He will continue his two former roles.

Mr. Pearson will assume the new roles as Minister of Health, Minister of Welfare. He will also continue as Provincial Secretary and Minister of Labor.

It is understood that an inter-department committee will be set up by Mr. Pearson to correlate administration of all acts dealing with social services.

Streetcars Out; Talk Methods Of Removing Tracks

Streetcars will have no place in the unified transportation system for Greater Victoria, Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the Greater Victoria Transportation Committee, indicated today as he concluded a meeting with municipal engineers at which the best methods of removing streetcar tracks, the regrading of the roads, and the maintenance of route roads were discussed.

Monday, Ald. Diggon said the engineers would inspect the 15 miles of "temporary" tracks in the city, Esquimalt and Oak Bay to see what methods of removal and regrading would best serve on this type of road. At the same time the municipal public works departments will be consulted to see what plans they have for work on any of these roads so there will be no duplication.

Tuesday, the engineers will inspect the 23 miles of permanent tracks in concrete bases, which includes the streetcar tracks in the downtown section.

By the end of the week Ald. Diggon hopes to have a full report on the matter from the engineers, and he and Mrs. Banks plan to visit interior districts during his tenure of office.

"We want to meet the people who are really the backbone of this country," Mr. Banks said here today.

● If you are one of the thousands of Canadians who started buying bonds in the very first Victory Loan, you certainly are lucky. Even if you bought bonds in only a few of the loans, you still are lucky. You have your bonds tucked away for a rainy day. You're getting extra income by cashing the coupons regularly.

With the war over, the question was whether or not Canadians still wanted to keep on buying bonds. To find the answer to this question, thousands of people all over the country were asked if they wanted to continue their wartime savings habit. Eight out of ten of those asked said they were anxious to keep on saving—by buying bonds.

In answer to this demand, Canada Savings Bonds will go on sale soon. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500 and $1000. The interest yield will be attractive. The bonds will be registered, providing protection against loss. They can be cashed at any time at full face value, with interest, at any branch in Canada of any chartered bank.

Complete details will be announced in this paper on Monday. Watch for this announcement, and make plans now to buy the new Canada Savings Bonds.

FULL SPEED AHEAD

FOR TWO SOLID MONTHS THE REPRESENTATIVES of 21 nations in Paris have discussed amendments and proposals for the draft peace treaties drawn up by the "Big Four"—the U.S., Great Britain, France, and the Soviet Union. Unless unforeseen circumstances intervene it is expected the deliberations will be concluded by October 15. It will then be the responsibility of the Council of Foreign Ministers to digest the product of the conference and decide upon the form of the final documents to be presented to the former enemy states.

On numerous occasions since the parley began on July 29 it looked as if the proceedings would either end in a verbal explosion that would cause an adjournment until tempers cooled off or produce a situation with far more serious consequences. So much time was being consumed until a few days ago with procedural and other seemingly unimportant matters that the average man in the street everywhere was beginning to lose faith and patience. Through a decision on the part of the "Big Four" Foreign Ministers themselves, however, more speed and common sense are now getting a long-overdue innings.

Though many hours have been consumed in tactical manoeuvres and tedious name-calling, with the delegates from the Soviet Union extending themselves on every available opportunity, the important redeeming fact emerging from the conference is that the peoples of the world have had hourly and daily reports of all the proceedings. And it was Mr. Lloyd George, when asked what progress was being made at the Peace Conference at Versailles after the First Great War, who said: "We're still talking; and that is a hopeful sign." What he meant, of course, was that so long as the conferees were face to face and talking to one another, there was always the chance of reaching rational solutions. While the circumstances of the present deliberations may differ in significant particulars, their dissimilarity is by no means great.

Into the midst of this conference, moreover, was tossed what took on all the appearance for a day or so of a first-class sensation with far-reaching potentialities—the Truman-Wallace-Byrnes contretemps. But this was much less than a nine days' wonder so far as it visibly affected the relations of the United States with the rest of the world in general and with the parley in Paris in particular. For no sooner had the incident subsided—with its effects on the American domestic political scene still problematical—than Premier Stalin's interview with the correspondent of the London Sunday Times immediately attracted the attention of all the delegates.

It remains to be seen, of course, whether the Marshal's words will be translated into more co-operative action than his spokesmen in Paris and New York have pursued in recent weeks, or whether they will be merely transitory in effect. They have nevertheless changed the atmosphere, speeded the business of the conference, and they certainly have encouraged the hope of a new approach to the so-called east versus west issue.

GETTING TOO TOUGH

GOVERNMENTAL AUTHORITIES IN all countries are under a moral obligation to permit their citizens to read publications giving differing views on questions of moment. During the emergencies of war, the reading public yields this right unwillingly, but is quick to press for its return when hostilities close. Without the basic freedom of access to information, no people can be expected to arrive at fair conclusions on problems of import. On the basis of this concept, the reported closure by Yugoslavia of the United States information service reading room in Belgrade will be considered a repressive measure that will exert further strain on the taut relationships between the two countries.

The situation that is created seems analogous to the condition that would exist if a court, hearing a dispute, refused admission of evidence by one of the contending parties. To exclude such testimony surely indicates a weakness in the case submitted. The fact that Yugoslavs have gained information from the United States office in Belgrade which had been denied them by the Tito regime in no way justifies the action just taken. If the curtain is to be drawn tight against the light of information, the hope for democratic institutions in Yugoslavia will be exceedingly dim.

But there is another point to be noted in the question. If the general protestations of the will to peace emanating from the leaders of major powers are to be accepted, Tito is in no position to "get tough" with the United States. He may do the shadow boxing and the feinting, but if it comes to a fight, his chances must assuredly rest on the strength of his "big brother." And Generalissimo Stalin has but recently given assurance of his confidence that peace will be maintained.

Moreover, as the irritation arising from the closure of the U.S. reading room in Belgrade prejudices American opinion still more against Yugoslavia, that country has before it the realistic action taken by the peace conference commission in Paris against the recalcitrance of Tito's delegates. This body has obtained support for a resolution to bar Yugoslavia from privileges of a signatory to the Italian treaty if she persists in her refusal to sign the pact. The point should soon come home to Tito that two can play at the game in which he is engaged, and in this case he faces major league opposition.

HIGH TRIBUTE

FORMERLY AS EDITOR OF COLLIER'S magazine, and more recently as a distinguished radio commentator, Mr. John B. Kennedy has impressed Canadian readers and listeners as a man of unusual competency in analyzing the world scene. In consequence of his position, more than ordinary appreciation will be felt for his assessment of Canada as a fine example of democracy where justice is predominant. The comparison he chose to draw, in the course of an interview here yesterday, between the principles which guide this Dominion and the United States and those which prevail in countries of rival ideology will further emphasize the natural unity which exists in the ranks of Americans and members of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

The point serves a highly useful purpose in these days when careless talk and the expression of ill-conceived emotion tend to disturb the equanimity which exists and must continue to exist among the Anglo-Saxon peoples. Inherent in Mr. Kennedy's comparison is the idea that the citizens of the United States and the British Commonwealth can serve well the cause of democratic peace by appreciating their similarities, reconciling superficial differences, and furnishing an object lesson in co-operation to other nations which magnify the hurdles besetting the road to the common goal of world security.

It is flattering to hear Mr. Kennedy's suggestion that Germany could best be taught the elements of democracy through incorporation into the British Commonwealth. While the feasibility of such an undertaking may be very much in doubt, he pays the sister dominions a high compliment by advancing this unique theory. It is, at all events, a project which could come only from a man of exceedingly good will toward the Commonwealth.

MAJOR TRADE CHANGES

LEADING CANADIAN ECONOMISTS all agree, and our history confirms, that the national income of Canada—the measure of our collective standard of living—depends on the extent of our external trade. There is general agreement, too, that so long as we retain our present climate—which is a factor governing our industrial and agricultural structure—no internal remedy, no political magic, can replace the stimulus of business with the outside world.

For this reason it is interesting to note the major changes in the trend of our commercial exchange. For British Empire countries there are substantial increases in our trade with Australia, Eire, New Zealand, South Africa and the United Kingdom; but decreases with British India, Ceylon, Newfoundland and Trinidad. For non-British countries we have increases with Belgium, Brazil, China, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, France, Spain, Sweden, Turkey, The Netherlands and many smaller countries, with decreases for Argentina, Columbia, the French West Indies, Morocco and Panama.

MORE THAN FORMALITY

THE DOMINION GOVERNMENT, through a special branch of the Department of State, will shortly issue a manual containing information for those who wish to achieve citizenship. Presumably it will set forth the formal steps which must be taken in order to qualify for that status. It will list standards that must be achieved and responsibilities which must be undertaken and, conceivably, it may outline some of the benefits accruing to those who meet the required stipulations.

But conformity to the dicta of the booklet will not necessarily make new settlers true Canadians; although it gives them citizenship. They will become true Canadians through a spiritual process, of which one element will be a desire and a will to make some worthwhile contribution to the land in which they have chosen to set down their roots.

HOME IN CREATION

AFTER BRIEF ABSORPTION IN THE chugging, clanking magic of the mechanical shovel that dug the excavation, the passer-by takes only cursory interest in the construction of the new house. To him, it is an inanimate thing which may capture his admiration for its design, and for the clean freshness of new wood and bright paint. But, at best, his reaction is objective. The passer-by cannot know the full significance of this edifice, rising in masonry, brick and lumber. He cannot see in it the materialization of past dreams and the inspiration of future hopes.

To those who planned it, the bricks and concrete, the new woodwork and shingles carry a deeper symbolism. This is more than the promise of shelter. This is a sanctuary, a place of growth for a new phase of life. Within these walls will come a spiritual development. Here the mystic threads of living will be woven into the rich and complex tapestry of the family. Here the miracle of new life may bring children's voices to blend with cheerful household sounds. Here health and illness, good fortune and bad will etch character; affection and sympathy will leave their imprint.

These things the passer-by does not see as he watches the building in progress. He looks merely at a house in the making. But the owner's eye penetrates further. He envisions a home and all the term connotes.

Must War Come?

By JOSEPH ALSOP
(Last of three articles.)

AMERICAN citizenship today has become a heavy responsibility. It is up to the United States to halt the drift toward war which has resulted from the world-wide struggle between the Soviet Union and the Western nations. We in the United States are the leaders of the West. We cannot shirk or unload the burden, because it is laid upon us by our resources, by our manpower and by our fortunate situation. The job must be done by us, if it is to be done at all. And the time allowed us is not long.

That is the background against which the slight, patient indefatigable figure of Secretary of State James F. Byrnes labors in Paris at the first stages of the great job. His aim is to obtain a radical change in Soviet policy, and thus to achieve an understanding between the West and the Soviet Union. His method is to try to convince the Soviet leaders of two vital truths: first, that their present policy of hostility and active imperialism will not pay, because the opposition is too strong and too united, and second, that they will get a square deal when they are ready to accept it.

THIS METHOD imposes far-reaching obligations upon the United States. It goes without saying that we must remain strong ourselves—strong politically, economically and militarily—for the West can be no stronger than its leader. Obviously, also, we must continue firm and determined, for the leader sets the example. But much more is required than mere strength, firmness and determination.

The present struggle is no simple contest between rival imperialisms, squabbling for spoils. It is a contest between two ways of life. And if it is true that the West is no stronger than its leader, it is equally true that we in the United States are no stronger than the Western way of life. Therefore Mr. Byrnes and his staff have come increasingly to realize that the first task is to make the Western way of life really work. Our allies, as they see it, are social and political health. Men with full bellies instinctively choose freedom. To men who are starving, freedom has little meaning. All over the world the Soviet Union has for allies misery, feudalism and hunger.

ACCEPTANCE of these truths demands action by the United States very different from any action of our happy, provincial, self-centred past. That is why Mr. Byrnes and those working with him have hesitated to accept them. The turning point was Mr. Byrnes' great speech at Stuttgart, in which he boldly assumed the duty of building a free and decent Germany. That speech announced his resolve to stay with the job until it is done and not to shrink back from any aspect of it.

Germany is the master key to Europe, but it is only part of the problem. For example, the Soviets are strongly penetrating the Middle East and China—backward areas, where the Soviet system has an unusually powerful appeal. Unless the Soviet penetrations are to succeed, measures must be taken to raise the level of life in these regions. On a foundation of projects of irrigation, power development and industrialization, financed through the World Bank and other instrumentalities, the backward areas can raise themselves from semi-feudalism to social and political health. More important still, it is necessary to face a major psychological problem in Europe itself, where the outcome of the struggle will be finally decided.

THIS PROBLEM is as simple as it is curious. In the United States we are in effect now practicing "capitalism in one country." Rich as we are, we can still do without the controls and planning which are essential in the impoverished European economies of this sad, postwar period. The choice in Europe is no longer a choice between capitalism and socialism. It is a choice between freedom and slavery—between the democratic, non-Communist Left, and the anti-democratic Communist Party. Perhaps it is an unnatural role for the conservative United States to be lending aid and comfort to the non-Communist Left in Britain, France, Germany, Italy and Austria. But it must be done. If we do otherwise we shall find ourselves saddled with more regimes like that in Greece.

In Greece a poisoned and unstable government of the Right has now been established as a direct result of the inadequacy of early measures to put the country on its feet. Such regimes not only vitiate our position, since they represent slavery in another form; what is much worse, they are also bad investments because they cannot last. Again, the need to assist and support the non-Communist Left, wherever aid is needed, has been fully and finally recognized by Mr. Byrnes and his colleagues in the last months.

SUCH ARE THE onerous necessities of the American policy. If we succeed in the great effort on which we have embarked, what will be the result? The result will be to confront the Soviet Union with a solid array of nations, all of them socially and politically healthy, all of them choosing freedom, all of them capable of resisting aggression, whether overt or underground. When that day comes the Soviet leaders must change their policy. They are practical men, and will not prosecute a policy which has become impractical. There can be little doubt that they will change, provided we continue to offer them a square deal. Undoubtedly this decision would be hastened if the Soviets could be convinced that they must reckon directly with American power in their expansionist adventure. Yet the effort we are making must always go on. There is no alternative.

Stuck with Your Old Car?

If you're "stuck with your old car" you at least have the satisfaction of knowing that you are not the only one!

New models just aren't rolling in at the rate everyone expected. Production is away behind, due to work stoppages and shortages of vital materials. It may be 6 to 12 months before most of you can get delivery.

In the meantime, you may be casting unkind glances at your present car and saying to yourself, "I'm stuck with it!"

But with the right attention, your car can continue to serve you well. Since it probably has to last out the year, there's no use delaying the work your car needs to put it in first-class running condition and appearance.

If you place it in the hands of an experienced, dependable automotive organization—such as Gladwell Motors—you're certain to be pleasantly surprised at the transformation.

Gladwell Motors is completely equipped to do the job economically and expertly, and when you see how your car looks and performs, well, you'll be delighted and perfectly willing to wait a little longer for a new model.

Jean Clayards Married In White

Marriage vows were exchanged Friday at 8, by Miss Jean Anita Clayards, daughter of Oak Bay Fire Chief E. G. Clayards, 1745 Lullie Street, and David Carleton Trace, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack H. Trace, 2738 St. Ann Street.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Clayards chose for her wedding, a gown of snow-white moire styled with fitted bodice, double puff sleeves, low self-ruffled neckline, and full floor-length skirt. A halo of orange blossoms held her full-length cascade veil, and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations and white chrysanthemums tied with streamers knotted with stephanotis. A strand of pearls, the gift of the groom, was her only jewelry.

Attending the bride were Miss Nancy Graves of Vancouver, as maid of honor, and her cousin, Miss Nancy Clayards as bridesmaid.

Miss Graves wore a gown of rose georgette fashioned with beaded bodice, bishop sleeves and full gathered skirt, while Miss Clayards chose a similar gown of turquoise featuring an embroidered bodice. They wore matching headaddresses of pleated net and panne velvet bandeaus, white mitts, and carried arm bouquets of white asters and bronze chrysanthemums.

Harold Trace was groomsmen for his brother and Roy Emery and Roy Elphick acted as ushers. Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nuns read the service in St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, decorated for the occasion with white chrysanthemums. James Gerry presided at the organ and Miss Marion Mitchell sang "O Perfect Love."

A reception was held, following the ceremony, at the Clayards' residence, where Mrs. S. W. Brock, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Trace, assisted in receiving the guests. A three-tier wedding cake topped with maidenhair fern and sweetheart roses centered the lace-covered table, flanked with crystal candelsticks and sprays of maidenhair fern and white chrysanthemums. A toast to the bride was proposed by J. V. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Trace left for the mainland on the midnight boat. The bride wore an aqua green dressmaker suit topped with a grey Chesterfield coat, a black off-the-face hat with pink trim, black accessories and a corsage bouquet of carnations and heather.

On their return, the young couple will reside at the Leland Apartments.

Velma Holmes Wed At First Baptist

An ivory satin gown fashioned with three-quarter-length sleeves, applied neckline and full skirt, slightly in train, was worn by Velma Holmes as she entered First Baptist Church with her father at 8.15 Friday evening to exchange marriage vows with Allan Dudley Wilson, eldest son of the late R. D. Wilson and Mrs. A. Wilson, Battleford, Sask.

The only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Holmes, 1619 Denman Street, completed her wedding ensemble with an embroidered veil, finger-tip length, held in place with a tiny cap. Her flowers were red rosebuds and white swansons.

A primrose taffeta gown was worn by matron of honor, Mrs. L. V. Pattison. Miss Robine Mark, as bridesmaid, chose a pale blue figured organza gown. Both wore matching headaddresses with shoulder-length veils and carried arm bouquets of pink carnations. L. V. Pattison was groomsmen and ushering were Frank Holmes and Nelson Stephens.

Rev. G. R. Easter performed the ceremony amidst a floral setting of yellow and white chrysanthemums. D. Stout presided at the organ and P. Edmonds sang "All Joy Be Thine."

Guests were received, following the ceremony, at a reception at the Kit Kat Cafe, decorated with yellow and white fall flowers for the occasion. A three-tier wedding cake centred the bride's table.

For their honeymoon trip to Vancouver and Seattle, the bride changed her wedding dress for a beige suit, styled with dolman sleeves, matching topcoat with mink neckpiece and dark brown accessories.

They will make their home at 1178 Fort Street on their return.

Dorothy Dix

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have no trouble in attracting men, but I find it extremely difficult to hold their interest, due to my inability to carry on a bright and amusing conversation. I am 22 years old, a high school graduate, and have an excellent position as a private secretary.

M. E.

Answer: If you cannot be a brilliant conversationalist, why not be an intelligent listener? Believe me, daughter, there is far more profit to a girl in lending her ears than there is in using her tongue. Also, it is a rarer accomplishment to be able to listen with an absorbed air than it is to wisecrack.

A famous novelist recently said that all that a woman needed to make her popular with men was just to have a vocabulary of two words. As long as she could murmur "How wonderful!" every time a man paused for breath, he could never get enough of her society.

Unexpected Action Usually The Cause Of All Accidents

Stating that collisions between automobiles are nearly always the result of some unexpected action on the part of one of the drivers, Police Chief J. A. McLellan today warned motorists against falling into a state of mind that takes everything for granted.

"Because the law gives you the right of way, it does not follow that the other fellow will grant you that right of way," said the chief, "any more than because there is a law against jay-walking it follows there will be no jay-walkers."

He explained it was never safe for the motorist to assume that other people would comply with the law.

"His only safe assumption is that people do unexpected things and that he must be constantly on the alert, not for the people who obey the law, but for those who do not," he said. "In other words—expect the unexpected."

Vancouver 'Dice Palace' Closed By Wismer

VANCOUVER (CP)—A mid-town "dice palace," richly furnished, catering to wealthy businessmen and where losses sometimes ranged as high as $60,000 to patrons, has been closed by direct orders of Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer.

Mr. Wismer went over the heads of police here and ordered the establishment closed after complaints had been received from Vancouver.

Closure was ordered after a

Posthumous Award For F.O. Carmichael

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Carmichael, 1932 St. Ann Street, have received from the Department of National Defence, the Operational Wings and Certificate of Recognition awarded posthumously to their eldest son, F.O. Brian Withers Carmichael for gallant services performed.

F.O. Carmichael was a native son of Victoria and received his education at St. Michael's and Oak Bay High School. He joined the R.C.A.F. early in 1941 and qualified as a wireless gunner from No. 2 Wireless School, Calgary, and from No. 8 B. and G. School, Lethbridge on Dec. 30 of that year.

On going overseas he took a course of instruction at No. 3 Radio School, Prestwick, Scotland, passing with a mark of 80 per cent. After advanced training at Cranwell, Eng., he was attached to the 612th Squadron, R.A.F., Thorney Island, On Oct. 12, 1942, he was transferred to the 179th Squadron, R.A.F., Gibraltar.

F.O. Carmichael took part in 17 operational flights and six anti-submarine sweeps. On Dec. 16, 1942, the plane was ditched and after five hours in the dinghy the crew was rescued by a Catalina. On the night of Jan. 21, 1943, the crew of which he was a member left Gibraltar to carry out a sweep over the Mediterranean from which they failed to return and were posted missing.

police raid Sept. 17, but the action of the Attorney-General was not disclosed until Friday.

He indicated his department is making further investigations.

Flying Club Gives Unanimous Support To Air Park Here

Victoria Flying Club members gave their unanimous support at a meeting in the Douglas Hotel Friday night to the proposal to establish a memorial air park at Gordon Head.

W. Scott, chairman of the Memorial Air Park Association of Greater Victoria, explained that the park would be a small field with green turf runways and decorative shrubbery, and possibly with tennis courts, coffee bar, and tourist lines.

The association, he said, is only interested in the development of 57.5 acres of land at Gordon Head held by War Assets Corporation, this land being considered ample for light plane operations.

Mr. Scott said the plan would not conflict with flying facilities and arrangements at Patricia Bay would relieve Patricia Bay facilities of congestion, would provide facilities for veteran flying men who had no place to fly at present, and would enable these men to teach the youth of Victoria to fly.

It was pointed out that of the members of the Victoria Flying Club, only a few had found it possible to attend the club's training course at Patricia Bay regularly because of the distance from the city to the airfield.

Air Student Solos

First student of the Victoria Flying Club's instructional course at Patricia Bay, Layton L. Layton, completed his first solo flight Friday, Frank Kennelly, club secretary, reports.

Starting his course Aug. 24, Mr. Layton took his training in Tiger Moth and Piper Cub aircraft. He had five and one-half hours dual instruction.

Hockey Snapshots

By THE CANADIAN PRESS.

Likeable Clarence Campbell, new president of the National Hockey League almost had an opportunity to prove his published statement that players who don't see eye-to-eye with their employers don't need to organize a union to assure themselves a square deal.

Campbell, who shocked hockeydom generally by speaking his mind—something almost unheard of among his presidential predecessors—would have had the salary dispute case of Alex Kaleta vs. Chicago Black Hawks in his lap today if the player hadn't weakened. Late last night the starry left winger agreed to quit his sit-down strike at Canmore, Alta., and join the Hawks' Regina camp after manager Bill Tobin declared him a "holdout" and threatened to refer the case to Campbell.

It was good news for coach Johnny Gottselig who had counted on big things this season from the high-scoring Kaleta. The winger's holdout upheld Johnny's selection of forwards for the Hawks first-string club but he chose the defencemen—Johnny Mariucci, Eddie Wares, Reg Hamilton, Ralph Natras and Leo Reise. The last two mentioned starred with Kansas City Flamingos last season.

Latest word from the prairies on Junior farm teams is that Moose Jaw Canucks are not out in the cold altogether for big-league support now the Hawks have decided to sponsor Winnipeg Rangers. Manager Tobin says the Hawks will still offer the Canucks financial assistance and Canuck coach Ken Doraty, hockey's mighty mite, has been taking in Chicago drills.

Dick Butler, former Moose Jaw Canucks star, signed a Chicago contract and will probably be farmed to Kansas City.

The league's prize rookie—Edgar LaPrade—may have a couple of minor league graduates flanking him on one of the New York Rangers' front-line combinations. Coach Frank Boucher is "high" on the way Edgman has been working with Norm Larson and Joe Bell.

But the most encouraging news from the Ranger camp involved one of the club's veterans—Bryan Hextall. Forced out of hockey last winter due to a liver ailment, the classy right winger is rounding into fine shape on a line with Grant Warwick and Alfie (Twins) Pike.

Pruning has started in earnest in Montreal Canadiens' camp and Dick Irvin lopped five rookies from the squad after announcing he'd signed regulars Murth Chamberlain, Bob Filion, Glen Harmon and Billy Reay to contracts.

Playoff Looms As Cards, Bums Even Up; Feller Equals Major Strikeout Record

By RALPH RODEN

The first major league post-season play-off to decide a pennant looked today as St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers headed into the final week-end deadlocked for first place in the National League.

The co-leaders, with identical won and lost records, have only two games left to play. Both will be at home, the Cards winding up the season with Chicago Cubs to night and tomorrow afternoon at Sportsman's Park, and the Dodgers clashing twice with Boston's Braves at Ebbetts Field.

Chicago's Cubs, themselves in a battle with the Braves for third place, shoved the Red Birds into a first-place tie with the idle Brooks last night with a 7 to 2 victory.

In the American League, Bob Feller, Cleveland Indians' great righthander, struck out six Detroit batters in a five-inning relief stint to tie Rube Waddell's listed major league record of 343 strikeouts in a single season and defeat the Tigers 9 to 8. A recent research, however, revealed that Waddell in 1904 actually fanned 349—more than the official record credits him with.

HUGHSON'S 20TH WIN

Tex Hughson staggered through to his 20th victory as Boston Red Sox downed Washington Senators 5 to 4. Pinky Higgins homered and singled three times to pace the Sox at the plate.

Chicago White Sox moved to within half a game of the fourth-place Senators by taking both ends of a twin bill from St. Louis Browns 7 to 3 and 8 to 3. Ed

Lopat and Frank Papish gained credit for the wins.

In the only other National League game, Cincinnati Reds, behind the five-hit pitching of Joe Beggs, shut out Pittsburgh Pirates 8 to 0.

Tillicums Win, Legion Lose In B.C. Boxla Playoffs

The Victoria Tillicums took a one-game lead in their best-of-three-series bid for the B.C. junior lacrosse title at Nanaimo Friday night when they trounced the Vancouver Burrards 12 to 6.

In the second game on the card, the New Westminster Legionnaires defeated the favored Canadian Legion of Victoria 15 to 12 in a knock-'em-down-'drag-'em-out affair that was highlighted by a near free-for-all in the fourth period between members of both teams.

Larry Booth paced Tillicums to their triumph by notching four of his team's markers as they coasted to victory in this

Seals, Acorns Win In Coast Playoffs; Scarsella Returns

By BILL WEATHERLY

Associated Press Sports Writer

The loss of big Les Scarsella's heavy blows late in the season may have cost the Oakland Acorns the Pacific Coast Baseball League pennant, but he may yet get a chance to help overpower the San Francisco Seals.

San Francisco's pennant winners, by virtue of their third straight playoff victory, 7 to 5 over the Hollywood Stars Friday night, are heavy favorites to enter the finals of the post season battle for the Governor's Cup.

But with Scarsella back in the line-up with the needed punch, the Oakland club advanced toward the playoff series by rapping out a 11 to 5 triumph over the Los Angeles Angels. It was the second victory against one loss for the Acorns in the series.

The winners of four games in each series meet in the finals. The engagements will be resumed with doubleheaders at Oakland and Hollywood Sunday.

Scarsella, who was leading the league in batting average and home runs when an operation took him out of the game in the middle of an Acorn-Seal fight for the pennant, came back in time for the playoffs.

His homer with two aboard in the seventh inning clinched the game for the Oaks last night.

The Seals pulled from behind in an eighth-inning rally to down the Stars and come within one game of capturing its series.

Seals, Acorns Win In Coast Playoffs; Scarsella Returns

By BILL WEATHERLY

Associated Press Sports Writer

The loss of big Les Scarsella's heavy blows late in the season may have cost the Oakland Acorns the Pacific Coast Baseball League pennant, but he may yet get a chance to help overpower the San Francisco Seals.

San Francisco's pennant winners, by virtue of their third straight playoff victory, 7 to 5 over the Hollywood Stars Friday night, are heavy favorites to enter the finals of the post season battle for the Governor's Cup.

But with Scarsella back in the line-up with the needed punch, the Oakland club advanced toward the playoff series by rapping out a 11 to 5 triumph over the Los Angeles Angels. It was the second victory against one loss for the Acorns in the series.

The winners of four games in each series meet in the finals. The engagements will be resumed with doubleheaders at Oakland and Hollywood Sunday.

By "CAP" THORSEN

Backbored by well-know sports figures young and old, a plan is well under way in Oak Bay to unify athletics and to make the eastside municipality a stronghold in the local sports picture.

Last June the Oak Bay Athletic Club was born for the express purpose of building up the municipality's athletic ranks, to band all groups together under a single heading—and with a No. 1 objective of encouraging youth in sport.

Pet ambition of the O.B.A.C. is to build a clubhouse within Oak Bay's borders. Officials appear to be quite optimistic of an early development in this direction.

The club, which has already got five types of games going under its banner, intends to expand to take in other activities on the indoor and outdoor sports scene. "And we intend to include fair-sex squads in our operations before long," said president Archie Gibbs, who is also chief of the local and B.C. rugby unions. He is plenty enthusiastic about the new set-up and believes the club will "really go places."

On the matter of how the unit will operate financially, Bill Gornall, public relations Joe for the club and popular rugger, reports that arrangements are completed to launch an immediate membership. "We will get operating funds through these fees," he reports.

Officials believe strong support will be given by residents of the suburb in the drive, especially in view of the already smart progress made on behalf of Oak Bay's sports-minded younger generation.

In the organization this year the Oak Bay Cricket Club was so superior in action it could not be beaten, and wound up with the Victoria and District Cricket Association championship laurels. Reg Wenman is the team's skipper, J. C. Conway the president and A. G. Sanderson club secretary, also in that role in the cricket group.

Oak Bay's has always been strong in rugger, from the city's young days up to the present time. This year, in addition to the senior squad sporting the all-white uniforms with the blue crest reading "Wanderers," intermediate and junior fifteens will perform. Campbell Forbes, "Finky" Tisdall, Maj. A. G. Dobble and Capt. E. D. W. Leven are the molding influences in this department of the club.

In soccer the senior club has tasted its first action. The junior aggregation, which breezed through to cop the provincial crown last year, will operate in the island's newly-reformed intermediate league, but will later on be eligible to gun for a repeat of their last year's feat on the B.C. junior battlefield. Two juvenile teams, handled by Allan Reside and Roy Lund, will also see action. Glen Hind is coaching the seniors, Al Richards the juniors.

Heavyweight Wally Smith of taxiab row, who piloted a under-16-year team in the 'hot months' fastball, will have the same crew in uniform for the basketball in the forthcoming season.

Longtime residents of Victoria who have been in the vicinity of Windsor Park of late are greatly impressed with the new face the playground has been given since before the war. The rose-garden corner in itself is a fine beauty-treatment to the scene, but the whole surface of the park is earmarked for rejuvenation. Some of it has been reseeded, and, according to Gornall, the remainder will be given a new grass coat on a gradual basis.

Goldsmith Is 'Y' Chief Hoop Coach

Ollie Goldsmith, well-known local hoop star, has been named basketball instructor of the intermediate and senior classes of the Y.M.C.A., starting Monday at 8.30. These classes will be held on Mondays and Thursdays.

Great interest is being shown in the swimming clubs, with more than 20 members present in each of the three divisions on Wednesday night. Presentation of ribbons will take place Wednesday at a winner's roast to be held by the club.

The track and field team is scheduled to hold its first winter workout on Thursday under coach Bruce Humber. Weight-lifting classes under the tutelage of G. F. Currie are being held Monday and Thursday evenings from 7.30 to 9.30.

The beginners' swim classes will commence this week with the boys starting Tuesday and the girls Wednesday.

Mustangs In Season Opener Tonight

When the Victoria Mustangs open their Canadian football season at Athletic Park tonight, they will meet the team that is regarded by the experts as the "one to beat" in the Big Four this year.

The Pacific Buckaroos, under Manager Don Lowe, have lined up a strong team for the opening game. With a line that averages 230 pounds, and a backfield led by ex-Blue Bomber Doc Hutchison, the visitors feature wide-open football with a versatile running attack.

Coaches Ed Rorvig and Jimmy Smith have been working hard with their charges these past two weeks and are relying on a light, fast backfield behind their experienced forward wall to provide the mainlanders with plenty of opposition under the arcs tonight.

Mayor Percy George will officially open the season by kicking off the first ball. The Victoria Boys' Band and the Victoria Girls' Pipe Band will be in attendance.

Officials for the game have been announced: George Harknett, referee; Johnny Rourke, umpire; Brent Murdoch, head linesman; and Archie McKinnon, timekeeper. Game time is 7.30.

Zale Comes Off Canvas To Retain Title In Fight Classed Among All-time Greats

By JOHN D. HAMILTON

Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK—Forty thousand limp sports fans trickled out of New York's Yankee Stadium Friday night, muttering superlatives and grinning with satisfaction.

Zale, staggered by Graziano's savage punching and tottering on aging legs, got up off the floor in the second round to stage one of the great comebacks in ring history.

Badly hurt in the fifth round, his superior ring skill barely held off Rocky until the bell. But with a minute's rest, he came back to crush the lower east sider with a paralyzing body attack which set his rival up for a knockout punch at one minute and 43 seconds of the sixth.

FANS WELL-PLEASED

When it was over, the blaze Manhattan fight mob had forgotten about fiascos such as the Louis-Corn waltz in June and was enthusiastic to the point of hysteria.

Promoter Mike Jacobs, who has been under sharp fire for alleged mismatches in the immediate past, beamed over both fighters and told the beaten Graziano in his dressing room: "Don't feel bad, Rocky. You'll be right back up there."

He wouldn't talk about a rematch but from the fans' point of view it looked like a natural for next summer or sooner.

Ironically enough, the champion—and victor—took by far the worst physical beating of the two participants. Rocky, noted for his pulverizing punching, lived up to advance notices and his slamming rights and lefts nearly finished the battle on a dozen occasions.

In the dressing room after the fight, Zale nursed a mouse under his right eye, a badly cut lip and nose, and a possibly fractured right hand.

But Graziano was almost unmarked.

ROUNDUP COMMENT

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
NEW YORK (AP) — As he walked into the subway after Friday night's fight at Yankee Stadium, a veteran New York sport writer remarked: "I don't mind standing. I've been standing for the last six rounds."

That just about covers the furious fistic doings between Tony Zale and Rocky Graziano. In the opinion of this observer, it must be classed among the great all-time fights. Graziano looked to be in somewhat better shape

Graziano Punches After Fight Over

YANKEE STADIUM, New York (AP)—Rocky Graziano was knocked out in the sixth round in his bid for the middleweight title Friday night but he won one victory in this big ballyard anyway.

Dressed in his street clothes after his defeat, he was on his way out of the stadium when a spectator spotted him and made a slighting remark. Rocky unhooked his rock-a-bye punch, let the spectator have it—then walked on out.

than Tony when they cooled out in the dressing rooms but he didn't have any squawk about the sudden ending. "All I heard was eight, nine, 10," he said, "and it came up on me very fast." As for Zale, he should get a job predicting results. He even called the round a day in advance.

U.S. Controllers
Will Lift Ceiling
On Meat If Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Roy L. Thompson said today the Price Control Board will "act promptly" if it gets an official appeal for removal of meat ceilings in the United States—but he doesn't expect one before November.

As for the current meat shortage, Mr. Thompson predicted it will continue for "some time."

The decontrol chief expressed these views to an interviewer as:

1. Some western cattlemen disagreed with President Truman's forecast that the normal fall run of grass-fed cattle should increase the supply of beef soon.

2. Government food officials said that if the military's meat requisitioning is continued at the new reduced rate the rest of this year, the U.S. armed services will get no more than perhaps 3.5 per cent of the total output.

3. The Office of Price Administration, yielding to a torrent of industry protest, announced it will scrap its order restoring June 30 price ceilings on restaurant meat meals. Higher ceilings will be set next week.

The army announced Friday that it was reducing its meat purchases by a fifth, or 3,000,000 pounds a week, because of the shortages.

Scenes Of Battle Filmed At Pyramids

Bernard Shaw's "Caesar and Cleopatra," which opens on Monday at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, stands a chance of becoming the film of the century. It is an ambitious picture, having been 20 months in the making and costing well over $6,000,000.

Battle scenes were shot at the pyramids near Cairo. Vivien Leigh—the "Scarlett O'Hara of 'Gone With the Wind'—plays the enchanting sixteen-year-old Queen of Egypt, and Claude Rains plays Caesar. The film was produced and directed by Gabriel Pascal, who also brought two other Shaw plays to the screen—"Pygmalion" and "Major Barbara."

Animals Feature 'Courage Of Lassie'

Several hundred denizens of the wild—making up the most unusual collection of "actors" ever assembled in Hollywood—perform before the technicolor cameras in "Courage of Lassie," which opens Monday at the Royal Theatre. Including a mountain lion, bobcat, beaver, coyote, raccoon, silver fox, deer, frogs, blue jays, herons, magpies and sheep, they were rounded up after months of searching by nearly every animal trainer in southern California.

Jimmy, a trained raven, is a veteran of 12 years in the acting business.

RIO THEATRE

"Junior Miss," the Broadway stage sensation that kept New York howling for two straight years, has been filmed by 20th Century-Fox into what is being called one of the most uproarious hits of the year. Starring Peggy Ann Garner with an outstanding supporting cast, the picture, which is currently at the Rio Theatre, is said to surpass even the stage version.

Film Star Offered Lumber Camp Job

Just about the time you think you're getting famous, something happens, as it did recently to Dennis Morgan, one of Warner Bros.' important young film stars, currently co-starring with Ann Sheridan, Jack Carson, Jane Wyman and Alexis Smith in that studio's "One More Tomorrow," at the Capitol Theatre Monday.

Years ago Morgan worked in a lumber camp. During the filming of his current picture, he received from the lumber company a letter pointing out the shortage of lumber workers and urging him to return to the job as "wages are now at their highest point."

Actress Tutored By Psychiatrist

So she might depict realistically every symptom of mental shock and portray accurately a person under psychoanalysis, Rosemary La Planche was tutored by a renowned Los Angeles psychiatrist every day for a month before the start of PRC's "Devil Bat's Daughter," which opens Monday at the York Theatre.

The Miss America of 1941 astounded the film's director, Frank Wisbar, by her knowledge of mental disorders and the reactions of people suffering from them.

Chief Scout Arrives This Evening To Begin 3-Day Tour

Lord Rowallan, M.C., T.D., Chief Scout of the British Empire, is scheduled to reach Patricia Bay by plane at 6:30 this evening to begin a three-day tour of Vancouver Island, which will take him to Victoria, Mill Bay and the Queen Alexandra Solarium, and Nanaimo, his last stop before returning to the mainland.

Lord Rowallan has been an active member of the Boy Scout movement for 23 years. His first appointment was as district commissioner for northeast Ayrshire district in 1922. In 1925, he became county commissioner for Ayrshire, a position which he still holds.

Educated at Eton, Lord Rowallan served in World War I, first with the Ayrshire Yeomanry in Gallipoli and Palestine. After the second battle of Gaza, he transferred to the Grenadier Guards and saw service in France with the first battalion, being awarded the Military Cross. A serious wound in the leg, caused when he was blown up by a shell, interrupted his military career.

No Demobilization Of Bureaucracy Says Conservative M.P.

Donald Fleming, Progressive Conservative Member of the House of Commons for Toronto-Eglinton, suggesting the Liberal government was wooing the C.C.F. to maintain power, told a meeting in the Empress Hotel Friday night there had been no demobilization of bureaucracy in Ottawa since the end of the Second World War.

"The continued imposition of heavy taxes is directly responsible for labor strife," said Mr. Fleming. He expressed the opinion that to expand production taxes must be reduced and that production alone would defeat inflation.

Introduced by Maj. Gen. G. R. Peakes, V.C., Nanaimo, P.E., Mr. Fleming said that the C.C.F. was in favor of the government seeking to perpetuate powers gained by the War Measures Act, the reason being that by imposing heavy taxation on private enterprise socialism would gradually be fastened around the necks of Canadians.
